The Art Sale.

The auction sale of oil paintings by San Francisco artists in the Opera House was well attended last evening, better prices being realized than on the opening night. About twenty paintings are left, including some of the large exhibition paintings by Holdredge, Scott and Collins. They will be on exhibition today and this evening at 7:30, and will be sold regardless of their gallery or studio prices. Let them bring what they may; Mr. Keller states positively they must be sold.

Do not fail to attend. To make it more interesting, and to insure a large attendance, two paintings will be given away to the ladies who attend the sale promptly at half past seven.

The Grand Concert.

Carson will have the pleasure tomorrow night of listening to two of Nevada's sweetest singers—Miss Flora Finlayson and Richard Jose. The young lady and gentleman have recently given concerts in Virginia City and Reno, and from the accounts published in the local papers the APPEAL predicts that there is a grand musical treat in store. Miss Finlayson and Mr. Jose will be assisted by local talent. The price of admission is fifty cents; no extra charge for reserved seats.

A CORRECTION.

The Industrial Department of the Orphans' Home Not Closed.

OFFICE OF STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION. CARSON CITY, August 8, 1887.

ED. MORNING APPEAL.—Dear Sir: I desire through your paper to answer the charge that has appeared successively in the Reno Gazette, the Virginia Enterprise, the Morning APPEAL, the Reno Journal and the Carson Tribune, that the Directors of the Orphans' Home had closed the Industrial Department of that institution indefinitely.

The first article appeared in the Reno Gazette of July 24th., in the form of a letter dated July 22, written by "Orphans' Friend," stating emphatically that the Industrial School was closed down indefinitely, and since that date the above named papers have reiterated this bold assertion, deeming it unnecessary to ask a member of the Board if this statement were true. Is it not surprising that the editors and proprietors of the Gazette, Messrs. C. S. Young and C. S. Preble, ex-members of the Board of Directors of the Orphans' Home, did not take issue with "Orphans' Friend" when he asserted that the last Legislature made ample provision for the maintenance of the Home for the next two years, especially when we remember that the Legislature appropriated $25,000 for the two years notwithstanding these ex-Directors earnestly recommended in their last report to the Legislature that the sum of $32,000 be appropriated, assigning many reasons why this sum was necessary to properly maintain the Home?

"Orphans' Friend" says the Industrial Department need not be any burden whatever on the Home Fund, but rather a source of profit. I will ask the ex-Directors if this statement coincides with their experience? If this is true it is clear that "Orphans' Friend" knows more about the management of this institution than either the old or new Board of Directors, and that the report of the Directors asking an appropriation of $32,000, when $25,000 is ample, was disregarded by the Legislature for sound reasons.

He further says the ostensible reason for closing the boys' workshop is because the last Legislature failed to appropriate a special fund for its maintenance. Now, if this statement be true, the "Orphans' Friend" is a mind reader of high order, for at no meeting of the Board was this assigned as a reason for closing the Industrial School. The school was closed during the Summer vacation, the same as any other school in the State, and at the request of the boys, the larger of whom desired to go out to the farms of the neighbors to earn something for themselves, where they are now working and well pleased.

At a meeting of the Board on April 4th, it was resolved that the sum of $300 be appropriated for the purchase of a lathe, and its appurtenances, for the Industrial School. At a meeting of the Board on May 28th the instructor in the Industrial School was notified that the school would be closed on the last of June the same as the day school. Can it be inferred from this that the school was indefinitely closed, or permanently, as is desired to be impressed upon the public in the several articles?

I am authorized to state most emphatically that the Industrial School was closed temporarily for vacation and that the Board never contemplated a permanent closing of that department.

The Board were not afraid that the Legislature would refuse to pay a deficiency bill if one should be presented with proper vouchers and reasons for the sums expended.

Is it not a little strange that the members of the press, so eager to publish these reports, should have taken no pains to ascertain the truth before giving them publicity?

By order of the Board, W. C. DOVEY, Secretary.

AMATEURS FOR AMATEURS G. M.

The Amateurs are bringing all influence they possess to bear upon the Esmeraldas for a return game of baseball. They are practicing diligently every evening and mean to win the next time they are pitted against the only club which has the honor of beating them this season. Immediately after the game at Hawthorne was over the Amateurs, backed by a number of prominent citizens of Carson, challenged the Esmeraldas to play here on August 21 for from $500 to 1,000 a side, and offer to pay $150 for their traveling expenses. The Amateurs also stated that they were ready to put up $200 as forfeit money, but the Esmeraldas asked for time to consider the matter.

At this writing nothing definite has yet been heard from the Esmeraldas, but a semi-official verbal message was received from them stating that they are willing to play the Amateurs for any sum between $500 and $5,000, but that the game must not be played either in Carson or Hawthorne. The APPEAL believes that it would be the proper thing for the Esmeraldas to come here if they intend to accept the challenge, but at the same time it hopes the Amateurs will not let the simple question of locality deter them from showing that they are the superior players.

The APPEAL is requested by the Amateurs to return thanks to those who telegraphed such kindly words of encouragement during the game at Hawthorne, and to state that their challenge to the Esmeraldas still stands open.

The Rifle.

The Carson Guard have been unable to make any matches lately, and consequently very little is heard about them. There will be three national shooting matches next month, however, and of course the Carson Guard will enter. They are known as the "American Field Matches," two being for teams of ten men, ten shots each at the 200-yard range, and one for six men, ten shots each at the same range. To companies using military rifles an allowance of only three points will be given to each man. The allowance heretofore has been five points, but such good scores have recently been made with military rifles that men using target rifles have refused to contest with such a large handicap. Gold medals will be given to the highest team in each match. The Carson Guard ought to win at least one of them.

The result of the individual contest in the Bullard match has just been received, showing that A. Johnson, of the Scheutzen's, made the best score. He made 407 points with a military rifle, and with the allowance of 25 points, 432 in all. Geo. C. Thaxter, the highest in the Carson Guard, is sixth on the list. He made 414 points.
